AMLIN PLUS SPONSORS DRESSAGE AT HICKSTEAD

Amlin Plus, the specialist sport horse and bloodstock insurer, has announced that it has entered into a new arrangement with Dressage at Hickstead to sponsor the Owners and Riders Marquee.

The competition draws audiences from across the globe, keen to view world class dressage. Dressage is currently one of the fastest growing equine sports in the UK and is tipped to be one of the highlights of the London 2012 Olympic Games.

David Ashby, Managing Director of Amlin Plus, said: "We are delighted to take on the sponsorship of Dressage at Hickstead. We have recently announced the appointment of Julian Lloyd, a senior bloodstock underwriter, who has long attended and supported this competition. Hickstead is a world class dressage venue and has been voted by riders as one of the best international shows. It has contributed substantially to the promotion of the discipline of dressage throughout Europe."

"As a specialist insurer of high value competition horses, Hickstead provides a great venue for us to support the industry and showcase our name."

In addition Amlin Plus has confirmed it will continue as title sponsors of the Eventing Grand Prix at the Longines Royal International Horse Show for 2011 and 2012.

Dressage at Hickstead, 28th -31st July 2011

Dressage at Hickstead was founded in 1993 after four years of preparatory work by International trainer Dane Rawlins and a small group of financial supporters, on a site of land at Hickstead in West Sussex. Within the space of only a few years it grew to become Britain's premier venue for both International and National Dressage Competitions.

Longines Royal International Horse Show, 26th- 31st July 2011

One of the biggest outdoor shows in the country, the Longines Royal International Horse Show uniquely sees the elite of many equestrian disciplines compete side by side: it has everything from the thrills and spills of international showjumping to the elegance and glamour of the country's best showing horses and ponies, to the exhilarating buzz of the country's best eventers flying across country.

For showing riders, this is exclusively a championship show, and is the culmination of many months of qualifications throughout the winter, with a host of prestigious classes for every breed of British horse and pony. The show also stages the peak of winter national showjumping qualifiers as the home to the British Showjumping Winter Finals. As one of only eight global hosts to the FEI Nations Cup™ Series, the show is also the British public's only chance to see their national showjumping team compete on home ground.
